STANDING ORDER

You recently filed a letter or motion in the Monroe Circuit Court VI.

Indiana Trial Rules require you to send a copy of anything you file with the court to the attorney for the other parties to the case. If those parties do not have an attorney, send the copy directly to the party.

You must mail or personally deliver the copy to the address that the attorney (or party) has provided the court. That address should be on the motions and court documents you have received in this case. If you are unable to find an address, you may contact the clerk or the court to obtain it.

If the attorney has an office in Monroe County, you can also deliver the copy to the attorney by placing it in the attorney's mailbox in the Court Services Office (Justice Building Room 302).

You must notify the court in writing that you have sent the copy before the court can act on your letter or motion. Please do this immediately. You must include the Case Number and current mailing addresses for the parties on all correspondence with the court so that we can act promptly on your request.

If you e-filed your letter or motion, you are still required to include a certificate of service indicating how you served the document on the parties.
